Hill Rule May Raise Taxes

Atty. Gen. John Hill's revolutionary opinion Thursday that public schools cannot charge students certain fees may wind up costing the Cameron ISD taxpayer more money, but it will not be as bad as first appears.

The Herald spoke with School Sup. Buddy Dulin Friday, who said a tax increase of from 1 to 3 cents may be necessary to pay for fees previously paid by students if the schools are required to furnish them.

Dulin said he expects a clarification of the Hill ruling, and the Texas Education Agency will no doubt issue directions shortly.

Fees paid by students in Cameron schools include those for workbooks and drivers education. Dulin said the new ruling will affect drivers education as students have been paying full price for the course.

However, the school this year is working with a state plan where the state pays a percentage of the cost. Dulin said decision on this will not be necessary before spring and he expects rulings on the matter by then.

He said probably $6000 would cover cost of student supplies and it would probably cost $4000 to give driver education to all students who applied.

With Cameron's tax base of $30 million, an increase of 1 cent would bring in $3,000. He said it could mean an increase of up to 3 cents to cover all costs. He agreed that if the state has to pay the bills, state taxes will be raised and the citizens will pay for it either way.

Hill's decision puts pressure on the legislature either to authorize the fees or to provide additional school funds. It would take an estimated $5 million a year in tax money to pay for the portion of driver education costs now financed with fees.

The ruling declared: "In the absence of specific legislative sanction, a school district does not have the authority to impose tuition for driver training; charges for school supplies and instruction and lab fees in conjunction with normal academic, vocational, or physical education classroom instruction or training; or fees for extra-curricular activities, such as band uniforms, athletic lockers and towels, and club dues."

No Quarantine On County For Imported Fire Ant

Milam County has not yet been officially quarantined because of fire ant infestation and will probably not be officially quarantined for a few months, according to County Agent Bill McCutchen.

The agent talked with Willie Williamson with the USDA out of Bryan, Wednesday morning. Williamson said the quarantine might possibly involve only a portion of the county.

Williamson said that at this time business could continue as usual with no inspection necessary for movement of hay, earth moving equipment, or other such items.

He said people should be encouraged to check equipment, hay and other likely transport items so as not to spread the problem to previously unaffected areas.

Survey maps of the imported fire ant situation were not available Wednesday, but Sam Winkleman of the Texas Department of Agriculture out of the Bryan office indicated that imported fire ants had been confirmed in and around Cameron and generally over the south part of the county.

Because of problems with EPA, Mirex bait cannot be flown on as before for fire ant control at this time but individual mound treatment with Mirex bait is effective.

Free Glaucoma Tests Offered At Rockdale

A Glaucoma screening program (free tests for Glaucoma) for residents of Milam County who are 35 years of age and over, will be held Sunday afternoon, Oct. 12, from 2:30 until 5 p.m. at the Rockdale Elementary School cafeteria.

The free tests are being sponsored by the Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness and the Rockdale Noon Lions Club. The program has been approved by the Milam County Medical Society and the health department.

Serving as volunteers in the program will be members of the Lions Club, their wives and local nurses. The tests will be administered by members of the Travis County Medical Society and Bell County Medical Society serving as volunteers.

Glaucoma is a leading cause of blindness in adults. One of every eight blind persons is blind from glaucoma. The disease occurs most often in people 35 years of age and older, and is a gradual, painless loss of side vision, of which the victim may be totally unaware.

Early detection of this disease, from which some one million persons are now suffering, unrecognized, is of vital importance. Once vision is lost from glaucoma, it can never be restored. However, if detected and treated in time, medical science can check the progress of the disease with medication or in some cases surgery.

Symptoms which may suggest the presence of glaucoma are: frequent changes of glasses, none of which are satisfactory; loss of side vision; blurred or foggy vision; rainbow-colored rings around lights; inability to adjust eyes to darkened rooms.

Having these symptoms does not necessarily mean a person has glaucoma but on the other hand, these symptoms might not even be present and a person could still have early glaucoma.

CONSTRUCTION is moving along quickly on the new county tax office in its location next to the new county jail. Style of the building is similar to that of the jail with brick columns in front. A spell of fine weather is aiding in getting the building ready for occupancy.

Consumer Service Program To Improve Local Postal Service

A nationwide Consumer Service Program designed to improve and broaden the quality of mail service was announced today by Postmaster Henry Litzman.

Beginning October 1, the U. S. Postal Service introduced a program at the Cameron Post Office and other offices across the nation to encourage mail users to register problems they may have with their mail service.

At the core of the program is a consumer service card, through which problems are identified and which postal managers attempt to expeditiously resolve.

The Consumer Service Program reflects Postmaster General Benjamin F. Litzman's determination that mail services to the public will be "friendly, courteous and efficient, as well as speedy and reliable."

"Good service is a far broader concept than just fast mail handling, as important as that is," the Postmaster General says. "It is also built on employee courtesy, our responsiveness to customer needs, the sympathy and understanding we bring to your own expectations of what good postal service is all about."

Postmaster Litzman urged customers in Cameron to bring their inquiries and complaints to the attention of postal managers. And if people feel their problems have not been properly handled, the Postmaster said, they should see him personally.

To make it easier for a customer to make a suggestion or complaint about postal service, the new consumer service card will be available from letter carriers and at post offices.

According to Postmaster Litzman, the card is two postal cards with carbon paper between them. "One copy goes to me or a station superintendent so work can begin on the problem," he said. "The other goes to Postal Service Headquarters in Washington for cataloging and analysis. The cards will help management spot problem areas and trends and take corrective action if necessary."

The Consumer Service Program was tested earlier this year in Illinois, Massachusetts, Arizona and Rhode Island. Postal customers in the test found the cards easy to complete and most complaints were resolved to the customer's satisfaction.

The card should take no more than two minutes to fill out. The postmaster also said he and his staff are willing to discuss any problems, including lack of courtesy, irregularities in deliveries or collections, collection box convenience and postal office hours.

Buckholts To Honor Retiring Supt. Brady

The Buckholts ISD will honor Supt. Leon Brady with a covered dish supper Friday, October 10 at 7:30 p.m. in the school gym.

Brady resigned the superintendent's post effective October 1 after serving Buckholts students and community 13 consecutive years.

Brady originally came to Buckholts as a teacher in 1940. That same year the Buckholts, Corinth and Fuchs Common School Districts were grouped to make the Buckholts Rural H.S. District.

Brady served as high school principal in 1946. He left that year and returned to Buckholts in 1962 as superintendent.

Brady watched many changes take place, both in education and at Buckholts School. Last year he was active in the change of Buckholts Rural School to the Buckholts Independent School District. Brady has dedicated much of his life to education and to improving and maintaining high standards in Buckholts schools.

Friends, parents, fellow educators, and present and past students of Supt. Brady are all invited to come to the appreciation banquet.

A gift fund has been started for him at the Buckholts State Bank.

Milam-Areans Fire Sweeps Through Gin

Fire of unknown origin swept through McGregor Gin Company quickly last week leveling the main portion in little more than an hour. Owner Dan Host said he figured the fire started in the fuse boxes, or from a bale stored on a truck. He figures repairs would cost some $250,000 and doesn't know yet whether he will rebuild. The gin was built in 1925.

Harvest Seized By Police

Marijuana plants were found growing on a lot that the City of Caldwell was trying to clean up and a police observer was staked out with a camera and portable radio. Sure enough, the culprit came and harvested some of the crop and was arrested on the scene. More marijuana was discovered in the subject's home and he was taken to jail.

Judge Disqualifies Himself

Williamson County Judge C. L. Chance disqualified himself from hearing the cases filed in county court against country and western singer Willie Nelson. Judge Chance took the action at a pre-trial hearing on the motion of the attorney for Cracker-Jack Productions, a corporation owned by Nelson also included in the complaints. The judge is a native of Liberty Hill, where Nelson's Fourth of July Picnic was held.

Deer Blind Costs Fracture

Bill Palmos, Hearne attorney, is recovering satisfactorily from a broken leg he received in an accident last Saturday. Palmos was on a lease with several companions and was up a tree building a deer stand. He lost his footing and fell some 20-25 feet to the ground, breaking both bones in his right leg. It is the same leg that Palmos had mangled when he was in a motorcycle accident years ago when he was attending The University of Texas.

School Bus Brakes Cut

Belton Public Schools suffered a brief set back last Monday morning when bus drivers discovered that brakes lines on five school buses had been cut. Belton City Police are investigating the matter, and Police Detective Cecil Cosper said, "I hope to be able to file more than malicious mischief charges when our investigation is complete. This could have been very serious."

Amtrak Zig Zag Eliminated

A north-south spur track will be installed at the junction of the Santa Fe Railway and the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad in Temple at South 12 St. to eliminate the zig zag to Milano for the St. Louis-Laredo Amtrak train. The change will help reduce the travel time for the passenger train going to Laredo or returning to St. Louis.

Caffey Nominee For All-Time

Lee Roy Caffey, formerly of Thorndale, is among 69 finalists surviving cut from 700 original nominees for election to State of Texas All-Time Professional Football Team. Caffey was a linebacker with the Philadelphia Eagles, the Green Bay Packers, Chicago Bears, Dallas Cowboys, and San Diego Chargers. He was an NFL All-Pro.

Shades Of Middle Ages! Joustiers Are At It Again

Zounds and forsooth! A new flowering of knighthood is blossoming in the land. From California to Maryland, jousting tournaments embellished by pageantry, fair maidens, and knights in medieval garb have never been more popular. The National Geographic Society says.

The nation's capitol is no exception. More than 100 mounted joustiers will compete at the Washington Monument grounds in this year's tournament on Sunday, October 12.

Maryland's State Sport

Many of the contestants will come from nearby Maryland and Virginia where jousting has been popular for some time. Jousting on horseback, or tilting the rings, a carry-over from colonial times in Maryland, has been the official state sport since 1962.

Virginians claim their main jousting tournament, scheduled each August at Natural Chimneys, is the nation's oldest continuously held sporting event. Legend says that a jousting tournament first took place there in 1821, when two young gallants competed for a lady's hand.

At most jousting tournaments in the United States, knights and ladies aim their lances at a series of small rings hung from arches along a measured course. The object is to spear the rings while galloping full tilt through the arches.

The sport requires a keen eye, an unwavering arm, and a steady seat on the saddle. Skills even Sir Lancelot would have cheered.

The knights of old would, however, look on the modern contests as child's play. Early tournaments were men in armor clashed on horseback knew few rules, but lots of mayhem. Sixty contestants died in one medieval free-for-all, and a knight slew his own son in another.

King Richard-the-Lionheart's brother Geoffrey was thrown from his horse, trampled, and killed while jousting in Paris in 1186.

Condemned by Popes

Popes eventually banned the bone-shattering sport. "Those who fall in tournament," railed a monk, "will go to hell." Few heeded. To be ready for war, taught one text, "a knight must have seen his own blood flow, have had his teeth crackle under the blow of his adversary."

The manly art of combat intoxicated France's King Francis I. "You chiefly delight, sire," said a courtier, "in taking part in tournaments fully armed with harp lances."

Heavier armor, blunt weapons, and rigid rules finally tamed the tournaments. And few died as knights gradually leveled their lances at rings on poles instead of each other.

At their best, the tournaments serve to channel warlike passions into correctly displayed. Linked with them was the chivalric ideal of romantic love. This put women on a pedestal, where she was worshipped from afar by knights who broke lances in her honor.

Today, women are respected as contestants. Rivaling the skill of many medieval knights, one Maryland woman won the state championship three times.

CHARGING full tilt, a "knight" spears a ring at a jousting tournament in Virginia. A serious training exercise for battle in medieval times, jousting gradually became a sport which spread over Europe and Colonial America. It enjoys a new surge of popularity in the United States.

'American Go' Went...

Remember that ol' American get up and go?

Remember how imagination, stick-to-itiveness, ingenuity were the means to putting this country ahead?

Remember how the first mass-produced cars came from Detroit? Relatively cheap, well-built and suitable for long service?

Remember Detroit's great creations after World War II which led to tail fins, multi-colors, and chrome more than automobile?

Remember how the foreign cars started creeping into American driveways in numbers about 10 years ago?

Remember how good American cars looked and how expensive they became to run?

Forget all that.

Remember that ol' American get up and go? Remember the accusations about Japanese imitation and cheapness in manufactured goods, about those ugly foreign cars, those German "bugs"?

Well, read from an ad about a new 1976 American car, Chevette, quoting:

"Chevette is international in design and heritage, incorporating engineering concepts proved around the world."

"Its wheelbase is about the same as the VW Rabbit's. It has more front-seat room than the Datsun B-210, more front-leg room than the Toyota Corolla."

And remember this is the first American sub-compact to challenge mileage by these same foreign imports. And it has an EPA rating of 40 mpg on the road under normal conditions.

Remember that good ol' American get up and go? It went.

We Mean Business...

We're proudest of the people we've motivated, the stands we've taken, the risks we've proved right, the changes we've compelled.

This is the substance of Newspaper Week for The Cameron Herald, easily one of the oldest non-dailies in Texas, easily one of the most modern in the country.

If we haven't seen it all, we won't be disappointed at what is left. For the experience of this staff, those dozens who've moved through here, indeed those hundreds in more than a century is immense. And for almost a hundred years, that was a few at a time.

It was not handed to us, nor was it asked to be given.

We know pretty much where all "the bodies are buried," where the lightweights, the boys, separate from the heavyweights, the men, where our deepest loyalties are.

We mean many things to this area, but in things important and things spontaneous we mean news and ads that are news. We mean continuity, 116 years as Centinel and Herald.

And in fun or fury, we mean business.

Communication Problems Face Japanese Industry

By James Weeks

TOKYO
Reuter--The Japan External Trade Organization (JET-RO), whose job it is to promote Japanese trading with the outside world, recently published an information booklet entitled "Understanding the Japanese--If that's possible."

Hardly an optimistic title perhaps, but the choice was revealing.

For despite the rapid post-war advance which has turned Japan into the world's third greatest economic power, communication between westerners and Japanese remains, to put it gently, problematic.

The issue is a complex one, reflecting as it does profoundly differing cultural traditions which grew in mutual isolation for centuries, until Japan opened its doors to the world little more than 100 years ago. But as practical-minded businessmen arrive here in hordes these days, it often boils down to one thing, the language barrier.

When a westerner speaking in English expects, or wants, a plain "yes" or a plain "no," he is most unlikely to get either from a Japanese.

The Japanese language has no direct equivalent for the English "yes" and "no." Instead it has two words, "hai" and "ie" which serve roughly to confirm or to negate statements and which can consequently mean both "yes" and "no," depending on the statement, and whether it was affirmative or negative.

If the "confirmation" word "hai" is simply taken to mean "yes," which is by no means an uncommon error, then the Japanese really do say things like "Yes, I have no bananas."

The western businessman unless he has been very well prepared, may come to the conclusion that his Japanese counterpart, frequently punctuating his English conversation with "yes," is in full agreement with him. But the Japanese may well be thinking of "hai"--"Yes, I hear what you say"--and still be totally opposed to what is being said.

Because of the Japanese reluctance to give a straight "no," westerners may also be led to believe his counterpart is being deliberately evasive, when in fact he may be simply concerned to create what he feels to be the correct atmosphere of cooperation, in which the talks can progress.

Language experts here agree that while westerners and Japanese may think they are understanding each other, they often remain poles apart because their respective languages approach the task of communication in very different fashions.

Rep. Kubiak Warns Of New Constitution Defeat

Rep. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale told a San Gabriel area gathering Tuesday that he strongly supports the proposed new State Constitution and warned that special interests are mounting a concentrated campaign to defeat the document.

"Much publicity will be coming from people who want to bad-mouth the new Constitution," Kubiak said. "In most cases, you will find that these people have a vested interest--a special interest--in preserving one particular portion of the old Constitution."

Kubiak said those opposing the Constitution will argue that a changeover from one Constitution to another will cost the state an exorbitant sum of money, but he said the new Constitution would actually save Texas tax dollars in the long run.

"If you look past the initial cost of implementing the new Constitution, it becomes clear that it will save us money in the long run," he said. "And after all, the long run is what matters when you are talking about maintaining efficient state government."

Kubiak said the finance article of the new Constitution will provide property tax reform and begin to remove unreasonable property taxes from farm and ranch land throughout Texas. The local government article will let cities make more of their own decisions without interference from the legislature, as the present Constitution requires, he said.

Kubiak also supported the judicial article, which he said would unify the present two-tiered court system into a single, more economical judicial branch. He also lauded the legislative article, which provides for yearly session of the legislature.

"Those who support the new Constitution are the ones who are taking a broader view of our need for better state and local government," Kubiak said. "I am proud to be one of that group."

Peking Politics Assume New Mystery

By David Rogers

PEKING

Reuter--After a comparatively uneventful summer, Peking politics have suddenly assumed new intrigue and mystery.

Although little has happened to help answer the long-standing questions, the first few weeks of autumn have provided plenty for China watchers to mull over.

A radical new campaign against the literary classical "Water Margin" has started, but few experts yet profess to know its exact objectives or significance.

Chiang Ching, Chairman Mao Tse-tung's wife, has spoken publicly for the first time since the tumultuous days when she headed the 1966 cultural revolution.

Yao Wen-Yuan, another leader of the revolution, has continued to keep a busy schedule while little has been seen of Wang Hung-Wen, once regarded as the rising star of Chinese politics.

Preparations for new five and 10-year plans have got underway in earnest with the convening of the national agricultural conference.

Officials have acknowledged incidents of "factionalism" which appear to have led to clashes in at least one province.

But the biggest and most sensitive issue of all remains the health of China's leaders and the succession question--who is to pick up the reins when, in the words of Chairman Mao, he and Premier Chou En-Lai reach their appointment with God.

Rightly or wrongly diplomats now relate many developments here with that question.

There is increasing concern about the health of the 77-year-old Chou, the master administrator who has pulled the People's Republic through the worst storms of the past 26 years.

Chou, whose exact illness has not been revealed, has not made a public appearance for a year, but photographs show he has lost considerable weight recently.

When former British Prime Minister Edward Heath visited Peking last week, he was told doctors had refused to allow the premier to meet him.

Two other senior politicians, West Germany's Franz-Josef Strauss and Alexander Zulu of Zambia, passed through Peking this month without the "meeting in a hospital" that has become part of the routine since Chou fell ill 18 months ago.

A top-ranking North Vietnamese delegation left Peking yesterday, also without meeting Chou. It was the most senior North Vietnamese group to visit the People's Republic since the fall of Saigon and Phnom Penh.

Chairman Mao, now a frail 81-year-old, still grants rare audiences and, according to Heath, who met him last Sunday, is "absolutely at fault with everything that is going on."

But it seems very unlikely Mao or Chou will be able to resume a vigorous role. The responsibility of running China has now largely fallen on the collective leadership of Teng Hsiao-Ping and a small group of fellow vice-premiers and party chiefs.

In such a period and with the new five-year plan in the making, it would have appeared to be the wrong time to start another tortuous political campaign.

But the Chinese media is now engaged in ferocious criticism of bandit leader Sung Chiang, the "Robin Hood" hero of "Water Margin." He stands charged with the grave crimes of capitulationism and revisionism.

The campaign, which has been given Mao's blessing, has a more personal tone than other recent movements. Inevitably it has prompted speculation that leftist radicals are attacking a section of the leadership.

So far this has not been proved. Chinese officials, who appear genuinely bemused when the campaign unfolds, now counsel correspondents against drawing direct allegories between the capitulationist villain of "Water Margin" and modern figures.

The "Water Margin" critiques are already becoming repetitious and some sinologists here doubt whether the capitulationist elements under fire will be revealed.

They suggest the campaign is part of a wider movement to oppose revisionist backsliding and steel the populace against compromise with the Russians--who remain the arch-capitulationists in Chinese eyes.

Teng, who according to at least one western analyst is the target of the campaign, certainly shows no signs of anxiety.

One foreign politician reported last weekend that the 71-year-old Teng looked younger than ever, was thriving on responsibility and projected a significantly more impressive and confident image than 16 months ago.

The diminutive Teng, carrying a heavy workload, has been publicly more active than any of the vice-premiers or party bosses, he is now generally recognized as China's "number three."

Gloria Fikes Certified Family Reunion Held

MRS. GLORIA JEAN FIKES

Mrs. Gloria Jean Fikes of Cameron has been presented her Certified Public Accountant certificate issued by the Texas Board of Public Accountancy.

The certificate was presented at the Central Texas Chapter of the Texas Society of CPAs in Waco, Sept. 25.

Descendants of the late Ludwig and Henrietta Weidemann held their first family reunion recently, at the American Legion Hall in Somerville.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Miller of Austin and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Malkey of Burton were in charge of the occasion.

A short meeting was conducted and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Miller were asked to coordinate another gathering next year. The date was set for September 11, 1976 at the American Legion Hall in Somerville with all attending to provide a basket lunch.

A buffet style dinner prepared by all was served with Mrs. Elizabeth Miller leading the group in prayer.

The oldest member present was Walter Stiewert, 78, of Carmine, Texas. Stiewert is a member of the Paul Weidemann family. The youngest was Darrell Baranowski, 17 months, from Richmond, Texas. Darrell is the great grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Malkey and a member of the Otto Weidemann family.

Those travelling the furthest to attend were Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Wilkening of Topeka, Kansas and Mrs. Lawrence Weidemann of South Gate, Calif. All were members of the Gus Weidemann family.

Everyone joined in singing and wishing a Happy Birthday to Max Weidemann of Houston who had his 73rd birthday on the 6th.

A guest book prepared by Patricia Weidemann Hargrove was placed at the entrance of the hall for all to register as they arrived.

The cover of the book held a picture of the late Ludwig Weidemann and inside were pictures of each of Ludwig and Henrietta's children with spouses. Each guest registered beside their respective parents' or grandparents' pictures.

Music for dancing was furnished by Roger Weidemann.

Approximately 100 family members and 5 guests registered.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Weidemann of Brenham were unable to attend due to the death of her mother, Mrs. Louise Krause.

Fleur-de-lis Club Learns Garden Arts For '76

The Fleur-de-lis Garden Club held its first meeting of the club year, September 30 in the home of Mrs. Dan McDaniel on Hanover Road.

Mrs. Carl Grothe and Mrs. Howard Wardlaw served as hostesses with Mrs. McDaniel.

Bill McCutchen, County Extension Agent, introduced Dr. William C. Welch, landscape horticulturist with Texas A&M University Extension Service from College Station, who spoke to the group on planting color for a bi-centennial year.

Welch said that many gardeners and flower arrangers are interested in including plants offering red, white and blue displays in their gardens for 1976. He emphasized that annuals and perennials provide a great deal of color in the landscape but also require considerable maintenance.

Well planned use of these materials can help bring unity and interest to the landscape. If scattered over wide areas with many colors used, this harmony can easily be destroyed.

Colors are more effective when grouped according to Welch. A mass of one color in an area catches the eye quicker and is more pleasing than a sprinkling of many colors over a large area.

Do not plant more annuals and perennials than you can properly maintain. This means frequent watering, pruning, grooming, spraying, fertilizing and sometimes dividing. By careful planning the gardener can have some color for every season in most of Texas.

He stressed that annuals and perennials are a quick and effective means of adding interest and beauty to the community and home landscape but not to overlook that long-term possibilities and advantages of planting native and adapted trees in our public and private areas.

If well selected and cared for, many bi-centennial tree plantings should still be around for our nation's tri-centennial!

He then offered the following list of annuals and perennials for bi-centennial plantings:

RED - Petunias, Zinnia, Verbena, Geranium, Anemones, Amaryllis, Ranunculus, Asters, Begonias, Phlox, Caladium, Ornamental Kale and Cabbage, Celosia, Chrysanthemum, Dahlia, Gladiolus, Impatiens, Salvia, Stock and Snapdragons.

WHITE - Petunias, Periwinkle, Alyssum, Snapdragons, Candytuft, Verbena, Stock, Zinnia, Dahlias, Phlox, Anemones, Geranium, Ranunculus, Amaryllis, Caladium, Ornamental Kale and Cabbage, Chrysanthemum, Dahlia, Larkspur, Gladiolus, Iris, Asters and Impatiens.

BLUE - Petunias, Ageratum, Morning Glories, Anemones, Ranunculus, Pansies, Plumbago, Larkspur, Iris, Asters, Cornflower, Platycodon, Verbena and Phlox.

During the business meeting that followed, Mrs. Bill

Mrs. Griffin Barrett, vice president, announced the theme for this year, "Celebrate America: Let Our Inherited Gift of Nature Show," and briefly outlined the programs and activities for the coming year, which include a "Spirit of '76" Flower Show in May.

Mrs. Roy Boutwell won the hostesses gift. An assortment of tarts and chocolate squares, hot tea and coffee were served to the twenty-three members and four guests present.

McCutchen, president, welcomed the following new members: Mrs. Lovic Baugh, Mrs. Sid Duderstadt, Mrs. Harold Roberts, Mrs. Daniel Smith, and Mrs. James Walthall. Guests of the club were Mrs. Alvin Roberts and Mrs. Jimmy Woodum.

Band Magazine Sales Do Well

The Yoe High School band magazine subscription drive has grossed a total of $5,000 worth of magazine sales, out of which the band will receive 40 percent.

The members of the band would like to extend a special "Thank you" to those people who have helped make the magazine sales a success stated Karen Richardson, Yoe Band reporter.

Anyone who has not purchased a magazine and wishes to do so should call the band hall at 697-3371 between 8 and 10:30 a.m., according to Miss Richardson.

Dance Class

Sears Role In Economy

The role of Sears, Roebuck and Co. in the economy of Texas was highlighted today Lovic G. Baugh, manager of the company's retail store here in Cameron.

Baugh said that Sears, the nation's largest retailer:

"Buys merchandise from 401 suppliers in Texas. In 1974 alone --- the last full year for which figures are available --- purchases from these suppliers totaled $401,341,000, an increase of $176,190,000 or 43% during the past five years.

"Paid more than $42,426,000 in state and local taxes, excluding social security and federal corporation taxes.

"Employs more than 400,000 nationally, including 27,000 in Texas.

"Operates a total of 288 sales and service facilities in Texas.

"Has 490,000 shareholders, including more than 29,932 in Texas. These shareholders, including Sears, employees, own 5,167,838 shares of Sears Stock.

"As the company begins its 90th year of operation, Sears has more than 12,000 domestic suppliers," said Baugh. "These suppliers are located in every state and provide the company with 93 per cent of the merchandise it sells.

Forest products account for close to $2 billion, or more than 14 percent, of the railroad industry's annual gross freight revenues.

Friendship

By Mrs. L. Guillote

We are all saddened at the death of Dale Schwartz, grandson of Mr. Bill Schwartz and son of Mr. and Mrs. James Schwartz of Waco. Dale was killed in a car - bicycle accident.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Ellender spent Wednesday in Oklahoma City visiting their daughter Linda.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Alonzo of Dallas visited in the Ellender home Thursday.

Capt. Robert Patterson, stationed at the marine airbase in Japan and Miss Alicia Plaski of Arlington, and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Purcell and daughters of Willsboro spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J.

Ellender and James.

Other visitors during the weekend of the Ellenders were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Guillote of Austin, Mrs. Mary Bales and daughter of Belton and Mrs. Loyce Bales of Temple.

Mrs. Carl Hanke visited with Mr. Ernest Hodge Saturday. Mr. Hodge has been a patient in the Rockdale hospital for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Guillote of Fairfield spent Wednesday and Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Guillote.

Sunday will be church and communion services in the Sharp Presbyterian Church in Sharp.

Mrs. J. D. Pope spent two days in Austin with John Dewey, Betty and Melissa. Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Romaines of Houston spent the weekend in the Elmer Rinn home.

Quite a few Sharp folks went to the Norman Valley reunion, which was held at the Joe Glaser Catfish farm in Buckholts. The reunion is held annually and attended by people who use to live in the area and ones who live there now.

Some of the folks who use to live in the Sharp area who went to the reunion were Mr. and Mrs. James Andrews of Angleton, Mr. and Mrs. Vivian Mitchum of Livingston and Mrs. Blanche Mitchum of Irving. They also visited friends in Sharp. The reunion was held Saturday.

Perrin Urges Immunizations

Texas is in an enviable position among the states in the nation. The number of victims of immunizable diseases has been going down steadily since 1970.

But this also can be disheartening to those in the health field, says Dr. E. Douglas Perrin, of the Milam County Health Department. Because of past successes, many parents are apathetic about these crippling, life-threatening diseases.

The most vulnerable children today in Texas are the unimmunized infants and pre-schoolers. Once children enter child care facilities or begin school, they must be immunized against certain diseases, said Dr. Perrin.

But, he added, many Texas parents who do not have their children enrolled in child care facilities feel they can wait until their offspring are of school age to start immunizations. This is sheer fallacy, since diseases are striking these very young October is Immunization Action Month, and emphasis is being placed on getting all preschoolers immunized. It's a big job, and officials of state, regional, and local health departments are joining with private physicians in a state-wide effort during October.

Dr. Fratis L. Duff, new Director of the Department of Health Resources (formerly the State Health Department), emphasizes the need to meet the continuing challenge of preventive immunizations in young children. Approximately a quarter of a million babies are born in Texas each year, and these children must be immunized.

Epidemics are still a possibility in Texas if all children aren't protected, said Dr. Duff. If the percentages of vaccinated children decline in Texas, we will see the quick spread of these diseases once they get started.

Yoe Shows '1' Effort Against Lions, 42-0

Nothing went wrong, 42-0. That is for the Cameron Yoemen in their '1' effort against the Leander Lions in Friday night grid action as the two 23-AA teams squared off in the district opener at Yoe Field.

3rd Quarter
131 yds. rushing; 0 yds. passing; 10 offensive plays. Sixteen seconds was enough for Jafus White to score when he exploded like a nuclear reactor going off, for 87 yards to give the Yoemen another 6 point insurance policy. Mondrik spotlighted his kick expertise when he sailed the pigskin through the uprights for 1. The Yoemen had it under control, 28-0.

It looked like Aaron Miller had been shot from a cannon when he sailed 38 yards for the fifth Yoe TD. Miller, in his famous razzle-dazzle style, premeated the Lions defense for 6 points. Tamez with the boot, for one. How does 35-0 sound?

Before the close of the third quarter David Rosemond intercepted a misguided Greg Martinpass, the Lion QB completed only 5 of 24 passes in his bombing attack. Ronnie Bennett created the play by tapping the ball to Rosemond who finally was caught at the Yoe 40.

The Yoe offense under the direction of Donald Komar, marched to the 16 before the Lion defense held. Tamez, getting his training, was called on for a field-goal try from the 16. It sailed wide and to the right.

4th Quarter
59 yds. rushing; 18 yds. passing; 16 offensive plays ONE MORE TIME...

The method for the next Yoe score was the passing attack that got James Pair to pay off dirt. Komar directed the Yoemen 67 yards in 10 plays with the final TD coming on a Komar to Pair pass from the 10 yard line. Pair caught the ball in the end zone and was immediately belted from behind by the Lion defense, but it was too late. Tamez added the extra touch. . . Yoe over Leander, 42-0.

It sounds like it was all offense, but one can never forget the Yoe fence that held so beautifully.

THANKS DEFENSE.

Who's next? Austin Westlake is the next step on the ladder and the Yoemen will travel to Austin for that outing with game time set at 8 p.m.

Sports Roundup Starr Defeats Eagles By 1

STARR
It was more than a falling Starr that defeated Milano Friday night in pre-season action. Starr took a last second touchdown to squeeze a 47-46 win over the Eagles. The Eagles struck four times in the opening quarter to Starr's 3. Milano scored once in the second period and took a 2 TD advantage at half time. The Eagles owned the Starr field all the way, until a last second TD run salvaged the win for Starr. David Gannell and Glen Dowling were featured for the Milano scoring attack.

Hornets Sting Chaps, 37-14

CALDWELL
The Caldwell Hornets stung the Westlake Chapparals in that 23AA district opener, 37-14 at Caldwell. John Ayers tallied 4 of the Hornets touchdowns. Ayers opened the scoring on a 7 yard run in the first quarter. The Hornets cashed into paydirt in the second quarter with Ayers on a 4-yard run. Westlake wasn't going to be denied a first half score and before the half ended John Picciandira raced 15 yards for the score. In the third quarter the Chaps had a return performance for six. Doug Gray blazed in from 12 yards out. The next three scores came in the fourth quarter after R. Bethanny tied a 28 yard FB. In the closing quarter Caldwell scored. Hughes 9 yard run, Ayers pass interception yard return, and the final came on a 22 yard dash by Ayers.

Bryan Whips 'Roos, 28-12

COLLEGE STATION
Bryan opened their district in winning style, over the Killdeer Kangaroos 28-12. Curtis Dickey set a Bryan rushing record rolling over 190 yards gained. The first quarter Bryan scored on a one yard scamper by Harry Francis. Killdeer retaliated and drove across the pay-dirt line with QB Darrol Ray tucking the pigskin. The second QB Curtis Kickey was spotlighted by scoring twice in the first on a 7 yard pass from Francis, and the second was a 85 yard scamper. Half-time score 21-6. Each team scored once in the second half. Bryan's tight end Hunter ran in a 14 yard pass from Francis and for Killdeer scored on a 7 yard pass from Roa to Cockerell.

Manor Slaps Eagles

MANOR
Manor opened their version of District 23AA grid action against the Hearne Eagles and from the opening kick off Manor was in control 18-0. A stale-mate first quarter was turned around during the second when Michael Williams put the Mustangs ahead with a 22 yard run. Manor repeated their scoring performance the third quarter with Williams on a five yard run. Both teams scored in the final period, Hearnes only TD came on a Murphy 23 yard run. Williams was again featured when he blazed in from 75 yards on the following kick off after the Hearne score.

Cougars-Cat Battle Ends, 0-0

ELGIN
The Cougars took a step in the right direction turning the losing habits into tying habits by holding off the Elgin Wildcats 0-0. The Cougars were helped by the Wildcats when they fumbled their way to the headknocking standstill. Rosebud-Lott tallied 4 first downs to the Wildcats 13. The stats went the Wildcats way, proving a total yard difference of; Cougars 39 yds. rushing, 38 yds. passing and Elgin tallied 243 yards rushing, 27 yards passing. The Cougars dropped to 0-3-1 while the Wildcats own a 1-2-1 win-loss record.

Rogers Tame Lions

ROGERS
The Eagles did no wrong Friday night against their district rival the Granger Lions 41-0. Twenty-one of the points were secured in the first quarter. The 21 held good for the first half and the Eagles proved their ability to the roarless Lions. David Elkins, Elwood McKinzy, and Larry Clowers teamed up for the first three scores. In the third quarter the Eagles returned to score twice; Clowers on a 25 yard pass interception and Douglas on a 35 yard run. Gill had his scoring opportunity in the final stanza on a 50 yard scamper. The Lions bowed to the Eagles in respect for the balance offensive-defensive display of District 28A talent.

THE STORY WAS TOLD... 42-0.

First Loss For Freshmen,

Yoe 'Flagged' Down At Leander

A second chance on both 'extra' point attempts was enough 'extra' to give the Lions a one point advantage over the Yoe High freshmen in Thursday night grid action at Leander field.

The red flags fell as fast as the Yoemen as the capes fly at a bullfight, with the Yoemen playing the role of the bull. The end result was the same, the bull was defeated 16-15.

It was three-in-a-row for the Yoe freshmen giving ground to no other offense, and plowing through each of their 3A opponents defense.

In the opening quarter the Yoemen lighted the scoreboard when Norman White intercepted a mis-guided pass and ignited the afterburners and broke 60 yards for the touchdown.

"We wanted to try for a one point PAT, it seemed like a good idea and I knew Timmy Matthews could put it through," Coach Poole said. It was a good idea and the PAT for one was good by Matthews and the Yoemen led 7-0.

With three minutes remaining in the first half, a boosted Leander offense sailed down the field and popped across the magic line for the 6. The point after was no good; however, there was a sudden flag. Then another try. The second time was good for two and the Lions suddenly led 8-7.

The Lions came back after the half time and started their offensive drive that took them all the way to scoring territory. A 40-yard pass play took the Lions into the end zone. The first PAT attempt failed.

Another flag was dropped. On the second attempt, the Lions scored 2 and led 16-7.

With 8 minutes remaining in the contest, Yoe QB Connie Green broke through the Lion defense on a trap play up the middle, and rambled 45 yards for the touchdown. The Yoemen helplessly went for the two, and Norman White shot in for the 2 point conversion.

The score - 16-15, just one short.

"We didn't play a real good game, but I was proud of the Yoe effort," Coach Poole said following the game.

The Yoe freshmen will host the Westlake Chapparals next Thursday with kick off time set at 6 p.m. with the Yoe JV following at 7:30 p.m.

Yoe dominance was being felt by the hapless Lions and as the half time buzzer sounded, the Yoemen had built a 2-10 lead.

Half-Time
The Yoe High band, under the direction of Jerry Bartley, circled around to win the half time. Their win matched the Yoemen's 42 pts.

Card Of Thanks

Dear Hearts and Gentle People--

If thoughts were words, you would have heard from me much sooner. I am still unable to use my hands, much to my distress, but my heartfelt gratitude will be eternal for the multitude of kindnesses and considerations shown me while I was hospitalized and since I have been back home.

It is with sincere regret that I cannot write and thank each of you individually, but thank all of you so very, very much for everything.

Most sincerely,

Davilla General Store Holds Unique Treasures

By Doris White

Visiting the Davilla general store, owned and operated by Mrs. Etoile Moore, can lead to some rare surprises. A collector from wayback, the petite Mrs. Moore displays a large and beautiful collection of antique and foreign glassware along with ceramic ware she has made herself.

Quite out of the unusual is a collection of fossils incuding what appears to be a petrified animal heart.

For the history buff, the antique cash register, bought second hand in 1916, is certainly of interest. Mrs. Moore still uses the ornamental register to ring up purchases.

The store, which has been in family hands for 4 generations, has held the town post office for two of those generations. The original post office box front was moved from across the street into the Moore's store in 1937 when Mrs. Moore's husband, Marion, became postmaster.

The age of the old wooden office front is not known, but according to Mrs. Moore, it has been in Davilla over a hundred years.

Mrs. Moore is also the author of two books, The History of Davilla and a novel, Album of Remembrance.

THE old cash register, bought by Mrs. Etoile Moore's father in 1916 is still in use.

THE BOX FRONT of the old post office is now manned by Postmaster Clyde H. Moore.

SHOWN are a few of the fossils owned by Mrs. Moore, including a large petrified vertebrae, ocean plant, and animal fossils, and a jawbone with two sets of teeth--both turned the same direction.

BESIDE a butterfly collection, sits the antique ticket safe still used to file credit tickets.
